

Taft baseball players named to all-league list

Trenton Taylor named to first team pitcher's list

COMMENT

By Matt Henry
Midway Driller
Sports Writer
mhenry@taftmidwaydriller.com

Posted May 28, 2015 at 10:30 AM

The Taft varsity baseball team may have ended their season on a heartbreaking note, but several Wildcat athletes got a little bit of consolation by being named to the all-South Sequoia League team.

Wildcat senior Trenton Taylor was named to the first team pitcher's list along with Cesar Chavez's David Gil. Taft senior Kyle Adkins was named to the first team catcher's list along with Cesar Chavez's Michael Nava.

Noah Parsons was the only other Taft player to make the first team list by being named to the first team utility list.

In terms of the second team, Tevin Howell and Matt Osborn were named to the second team outfield list along with Arvin's Alex Guerra and Wasco's Austin Banducci.

Taft's Cameron Anderson, Will Moore, Alex Guzman and Cain Roberts were named to the honorable mention list.

As a team, the Wildcats went 15-14 overall and 8-4 in the South Sequoia League. Taft advanced to the quarter final round where they lost a 1-0 10 inning battle to the Golden Valley Bulldogs.